In 2004, Chris Garcia left France for the USA and settled in Las Vegas where he participated in a group of DJs called '702DJ.com'. Garcia started his new American career with private parties for Vegas' upper class crowd. Many enjoyed his style of music and he was quickly hired by DRAI's nightclub, which had consistently earned "Best After Hours Club" year after year. After only spinning in Las Vegas for one year, Chris was offered a guest DJ spot in Los Angeles, Phoenix, Miami, San Diego and even Chicago.

In 2006 Garcia accepted a position as resident DJ in two prestigious Las Vegas nightclubs, Tryst and Tao. In 2007 Garcia joined the DJ team at Vegas' hottest new nightclub, JET at the Mirage. Alongside friends and colleagues, Garcia created what would later become Las Vegas's premier industry house night "3400: Destination House". In 2008 Garcia released his first album "In De Guetto" which instantly became a club success in the US and in South America. In 2010, he signed with Universal Music and produced the single "The Rhythm of the Night". His new single "Le Cirque" has been signed with Ultra and will most certainly be one of the most played tracks of the Winter Music Conference 2011.

After only 6 years in the US, Chris Garcia has become one of the most famous house DJs from out of Las Vegas. He recently received the Nightclub & Bar Award 2011 for Best Resident DJ for his residency at Playhouse in LA.
