Notorious Spanish DJ and producer JP Candela has combined forces with prolific house music maker Robbie Rivera to create an innovative and vibrant new track entitled 'Morenita'. The pair have secured a release on Kryder and Tom Staar's relatively new label 'Cartel Recordings', which has the support of one of the most dominant labels in the electronic dance music scene – Spinnin' Records. By having the support of the hugely successful Dutch label, Cartel Recordings have amassed over 100,000 views on many of their releases on Soundcloud. This exposure will definitely help bring JP Candela and Robbie Rivera's 'Morenita' onto many dance floors across the world.

'Morenita' fits into the tribal house genre, showcasing some awesome latino style vocals with a slick energetic piano chord progression before hitting into a sweet drop that contains a catchy tireless beat with a very powerful bass line. Expect this to be going off at many festivals around the world this summer as this has the potential to be an anthem in the house music scene.

Here's what the artists have to say about 'Morenita':

"We were inspired by the sounds of a classic pure house record with the Latin roots that we both have. We wanted to embrace the original Colombian vocal and sounds and make a Latin inspired house record that is both authentic and timeless."
