He brought sexy back to house music and it never left. Today, Robbie Rivera sits firmly atop the dance music hierarchy, highlighted by a partnership with Armada Music and a slew of releases on a large number of prominent labels. Today, he delivers his brand-new Tech House tune, 'This Is The Groove'.

Powerful kicks and infectious vocal hooks flood the soundwaves, as listeners enjoy Rivera's latest work. Embracing the day-party vibes of Tech House and boasting Acid-House-inspired synths, topped with a hint of 90's House, Robbie's latest track draws inspiration from a vast variety of sounds. While the big kicks and heavy bass will fill dancefloors instantly, the long, tension-building build-ups help the drops hit hard, leaving fans in awe.

Having released his new EP, 'This Is My Sound' this year, the Puerto Rican also announced a slew of upcoming releases in an interview with Magnetic Magazine.

"At the moment I have new music being released on Juicy Traxx, Juicy Music, Sixty8beats, Spinnin, Nervous, Dvision, and Heldeep. I just remixed my friend Bob Sinclair and the new L'Tric track which is awesome."
