We ran into the Chicago-bred, Los Angeles-based DJ Spryte (<http://skamartist.com/spryte>) earlier this year at NAMM (<https://www.namm.org/>), and roped him into an impromptu 'A Moment With' interview. Coming up in the Golden Era of Turntablism, he's made his way through numerous DJ battles, securing an ITF World Title along the way. These days you'll find him touring and holding down residencies at some of the top clubs across the globe, performing as a part of the duo Made Monster (<http://www.mademonster.com/>), and producing original music under the alias Sprizzy.

Tune into the full interview to get his take on the pros/cons of evolving DJ technology, how Twitch has revolutionized music distribution, and staying true to the roots of turntablism.
