

PODCAST

SERATO AND SINDEN: "IF THERE'S A NEED FOR SOMETHING, TECHNOLOGY WILL ALWAYS FIND A WAY"

Time to dive deep into Serato DJ and the journey behind the program

IN ASSOCIATION WITH SERATO | 31 MAY 2018

Sinden, the UK native and Los Angeles-based rising star, discusses his journey across the pond, learning the ropes of DJing and experimenting creatively with Serato and his label House Line on this week's episode of On Rotation.

Later, we hear from Serato's artist relations representative Matt Perry, who dives into the benefits and lesser known beauties of the prolific program Serato DJ for experts and DJ hopefuls alike.

Additionally, you'll hear exclusive premieres from Billy Kenny and Mija, so.mind and Merville & Crosson.

Mixmag's On Rotation podcast is brought to you in partnership with Serato: The power of music. Find out more at serato.com

Find this and all episodes of On Rotation with the likes of The Black Madonna, Black Coffee, Peggy Gou, Busy P, Charlotte de Witte and more below or on Mixmag's Soundcloud.

MOST POPULAR

10 of the most exciting new names in bass music

- Bradley Gunn's time as a raver "has come to an end"
- Petition created to erect Keith Flint statue in his hometown
- Back from the dead: Paris's club scene has a new beating heart
- New documentary highlights the Miami nightlife challenging the American dream

